Tale of Hidden Treasure Down in Franklin Township.

MIKE FERNAN SLEEPS TEN YEARS

A Few Railroad Facts—Notes for Sportsmen Only—A Silver Orator Is Thrown Out of the Temple—Story of a Turtle—Notes of News in and About the County.

Special Correspondence of The Tribune.

Susquehanna, Oct. 6.—From over in Franklin township, this county, there comes the story of a true tale of a wonderful find. There is said to be in that romantic section a certain ditch about eight rods long, dug in a zig-zag fashion by the untutored and unskilled Indians. This ditch was filled up with some thing like a century ago, and the owner refuses to sell it on account of the several miles of 50-cent silver dollars in erude form, and suggests that the prospectors go digging to secure funds with which to carry on the "campaign of education." Moreover, a mineral spring has also been discovered near the spot. It is covered by a large, flat stone, and has a foreign odor, not unlike South Gibson apple-jack or other liquid with known curative qualities. A silver mine and an apple-jack spring discovered in old Susquehanna county in one week! "Hullygoy" what a county!

ASLEEP TEN YEARS.

Michael Fernan, of Elmira, who has Susquehanna relatives, has been declared insane by a medical commission, and an order has been granted by the court of Chemung county committing him to the state asylum for the insane, in Binghamton. Until a year or so, Mr. Fernan has been for a quarter of a century a resident of Factoryville, where he was watchman of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western tunnel and a small farmer. For ten years he has been asleep and practically dead to the world. In all these years he has never spoken. His wife and several children have died since his attack, but he has never woken or act, shown any consciousness of the fact. His appetite has been excellent. At different times during his strange and prolonged sleep specialists have examined him, but none of them have been able to assign a cause for the malady or to prescribe a cure.

RAILROAD FACTS.

General Passenger Agent D. I. Roberts, of the Erie, is slowly recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

A. M. Tucker, a prominent official of the Erie, is at the Dansville Sanitarium, suffering from nervous prostration.

Railway officials are discussing the respective rights of upper and lower berth owners in sleeping cars. It is claimed by some that the holder of a lower berth has a right to the seat facing toward the rear of the car.

The Erie employees in Susquehanna will organize an "Erie Railroad Employes Sound Money Club." There are several such organizations in the various towns along the line.

The Trinitarian have paid out $2,500,000 for insurance; the Farmers $4,000,000; and the engineers $6,000,000.

Erie officials deny that the new scheme of running locomotives continually from Jersey City to Susquehanna is a disaster to the Erie.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen will hold the next biennial convention in Toronto, Canada.

In Buffalo on Thursday evening more than 500 Erie railroad employes organized an "Erie Railway Employees Sound Money Club." They have a distinctive button. More than 900 of the 1,000 employes on the Erie Buffalo Division have signed the membership of the "Erie Railway Employees' Sound Money Club" in Buffalo.

Chief officials of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western road deny the rumor that the company has given orders that the men must vote for McKinley or be discharged.

FOR SPORTSMEN ONLY.

Another American eagle, killed by an unknown person, has been found on the mountain near Windsor.

At Hallstead, L. E. Tiffany shot a hawk, American sparrow hawk, measuring six feet from tip to tip.

A party of deer-hunters will leave here today for the wilds of Pike county, Pa.

Ten Susquehanna and vicinity hunters are in great North Woods, in search of deer. At last accounts they had established a record for long distance walking.

Bass are biting beautifully in the river near Lansboro. A Susquehanna fisherman caught seventy-five minnows, one few days since, with minnows for bait.

A Windsor man caught an eight-pound black bass, at that point, on Saturday.

Some mammoth—eight and ten-pound—pike-perch were caught from the river near here last fall, with lampreys attached to their bodies. That bit of fish along the Delaware river, but they are scarce hereabouts.

THROWN OUT OF THE TEMPLE.

A few evenings since a local orator from Oakland announced a "silver" speech for a little church over in Windsor township, Broome county. During the orator's protechnical display a man stood up in the audience and asked a question. The orator said he was there to make a speech and not to answer questions. After a few more to the questioner walked to the platform, seized the orator, led him out of doors and told him to follow a wagon track home. The meeting adjourned sine die. When next the orator invades York state he will go as a "blessing" in disguise.

IN THE COUNTY.

Little Thomson, on the Jefferson branch, is moving for electric lights. Montrose, with its court house and two railroads, still sticks to kerosene lamps and the moon. Some of the old residents carry tin lanterns and use the tallow dips in their homes. That bit of "the world do move" very slowly.

In some portions of the county apples are selling at ten cents per bushel, and thousands of bushels will rot upon the ground.

Burglars are burglarizing in Hallstead. The county teachers' institute will be held in Montrose, beginning Oct. 19, and continuing through the week. The lecturers announced are: Hon. Samuel Phelps, Leland, H. H. Emmett, Dr. A. A. Willis and Will Carlton.

Hallstead's hook and ladder will be reorganized with twenty-five new members.

farmers of Riverside, near Great Bend, are erecting a grange hall.

Three Hallstead railroad men have recently lost their lives within a few months in the line of duty. The Republicans of Jackson held a big rally on Friday evening last. Capt. W. D. B. Alney, of Montrose, delivered an able, logical and interesting address, and captured the audience from the start. He was applauded throughout. Registrar and Recorder S. S. Wright also spoke briefly and ably. The meeting was a very enthusiastic one.

TALE OF A TURTLE.

While a gang of Delaware, Lackawanna and Western trackmen was at work near Summersville on Saturday they discovered a huge turtle, one of the largest ever seen in this section. It was thrown into a hoghead of water, and the next day, the men found the inscription, "James Buchanan, 1848," carved upon the turtles shell. A farmer remembers having seen the same turtle, or one with the same inscription, on miles south of Scranton, in 1850. The creature has therefore journeyed about fifty miles in 46 years. A schoolmaster, who chanced to pass by, added the legend to the turtles shell. "William McKinley," he says, "the turtle will probably be sent to Canton on Friday next, on the Lackawanna county excursion from Scranton.

FLOATS AND JETSAM.

The elder mills are making merry music among the mountains, and the apple-jack will be in evidence.

Campaign documents are arriving at the Susquehanna postoffice in 2,000 lots, and the letter-carrying postmaster thinks swears words.

A vicinity man offers to let a perigrinating profession of hypnotism buy him for a year, which he evidently desires to escape the financial discussion.

Tramps are returning from the Otsego County hop fields, to the deep disgust of railroad men and housekeepers.

Editor McClure, of the Philadelphia Times, explains that a "doubtful state," this year, is a state which is in a doubt whether the Republican majority will be 200,000 or 300,000.

"Reptile" family—including, of course, gold bugs—are very questionable. Two wife-beaters have lately been banished before Susquehanna justices.

In both instances the wife has dropped around on the turtles shell. A farmer complained and paid the costs of court. Wonderful is the height and depth and breadth of a woman's love and forgiveness.

The First National Bank's elegant new block is gradually approaching completion. It will be one of the finest structures in this section.

The Susquehanna McKinley and Hobart club held an enthusiastic meeting in Lansboro on Saturday evening.

The Susquehanna county convention, Women's Christian Temperance Union, in session in Forest City last week, elected the following delegates to attend the state convention, to be held in Pittsburg, on Friday next: Mrs. C. E. Whitney, Susquehanna; Mrs. Dr. Blakeley, Forest City; Mrs. C. M. Lyons, Montrose.

Susquehanna county will be largely represented at the great Christian Endeavor gathering in Scranton this week. As a convention city, Scranton is an unusual one, and the business city, the consensus of opinion among commercial men is, that today it is the busiest, most wide-awake city of the North.
